

Tidewater Camera Club
October 22, 2007 Meeting
TCVAC

Tim Champney called the meeting to order at 7:05. He welcomed visitors and new members. There wasn't a Treasurer's report, but Tim thought that our membership was over 60 members.

The theme for the night's competition was "eyes", and the theme for the November meetings is "red," meaning that the shot must contain, in some form, the color red. Steve Gottlieb is the speaker for the November 5th meeting at the Academy Art Museum, and Jack Mills is the speaker for the meeting on the 19th at TCVAC.

Sign-up sheets were passed to get help with refreshments for upcoming meeting, and for help at the club booth for Waterfowl Festival. There was discussion about the booth, manning it and getting enough supply of prints, matted or matted and framed for the 3 day festival. Set-up is on 11/5, and on 11/8 all work should be there. Jane McConnell can answer questions – jmcc@dmv.com. Please contact Jane if you would like to volunteer to help.

Fran Saunders is helping Jack Upchurch with the website. She's trying to get images for the winners of monthly competition on the club site. You will get an email to get your permission (and an email of the image if it was a print competition). Winners should e-mail Fran their images if they agree to put them on the TCC website (Fran Saunders's e-mail calidrid@verizon.net).

The images were viewed by the club, then the members had refreshments while the judges did their work. After the winners were announced and the images enjoyed again, the meeting was adjourned.
